Song.

BY NATHAN HARKELL, D.D.

All the blossoms greet her,

An echo passes by,

Roses bend to meet her,

Daisies nod and sigh—

"She is far above us!"

Burlington Hawkeyetes.

Motto of the communists, "Give us our rights."

The question of the hour—"What time is it?"

It makes a distiller squirm when he sees a revenue agent sneaking around.

Times are awfully quiet. There hasn't been a new party organized since breakfast.

The New York papers are again discussing the question, "Does proof reading prove?"

Dr. President Grant is tapering off his evil habit; he now only smokes one cigar at a time.

"What's a mocker." Wonder if that is the reason so many men stand up and make mouths at it?

CLARA MORRIS is going to play "Conscience." "Conscience" at 11; that's the fellow that plays thunder.

ANX ELIZA YOUNG is still pursuing the late lamented Benjamin with her lecture.

In view of the fact, what does Mr. Beecher think of future punishment now?

Just as the warm weather comes swooping down upon us, William Patterson, of Michigan, invents a car heater.

Some men always are at the wrong end of the season.

FROM our Cleveland dispatches it appears that the wedding gifts which graced the nuptials of Don Cameron and Miss Sherman only aggregated $100,000.

There is certainly some mistake in this. Surely some one besides us sent presents to the young people?

A MONUMENT to James Lick was dedicated in Pennsylvania a few weeks since.

As the late Mr. Lick left an estate valued at several millions, and made a will which had two or three heirs, we didn't suppose there was enough of the estate left anywhere by this time to put up even a headstone.

The Iowa poultryers' association sends a circular with the request that we hand it to some enthusiastic "chicken fancier." The most enthusiastic "chicken fancier" in Burlington is back in jail ever since the last dark of the moon, but we'll hand in the circular to the sheriff for him.

Yours lady, in a railway car, excitedly—"Conductor, this man put in this seat with me has insulted me!" Conductor, grandly—"The second, what has he done, miss?" Young lady, indignantly—"He went to sleep!" Howls of derision and wrath from the passengers. The second, is put off.

WASHINGTON society is developing, and encouraging a literary atmosphere, and "culture" is now so highly regarded in the national capital that even the members of Congress are learning to spell, and a Senator who cannot appreciate and admire Emerson in his infinite song and dance characters, is not received in the highest circles.

When a Burlington man reads about the splendid old Roman military roads, how carefully and perfectly they were constructed, and how they last for ages, it makes him weep tears of bitter sorrow that Caesar didn't invade South Hill when he was on his way to Spain. He feels that he would gladly trade off his old grandfather "to make a Roman holiday" for about two miles of respectable streets.

The Iowa Times tells of a girl out in Iowa who ran away with her father's coachman and disgraced the family. We beg your pardon, Colonel; her father must have been a coachman, not a man, then, or else it may have been a street-car driver the girl ran away with. Coachman? Coachman? Who is the Iowa man that has his own coachman? Tell us his name till we set the green-back party onto him.

There are telling now about a man in Dubuque who buried two dozen bottles of whiskey in his cellar twenty-three years ago, and forgot all about them, and when they were accidentally dug up last week, the whiskey was found to be superb. How people will live. The man may have buried that whiskey in his cellar, but if he forgot about it, it was because he was struck by lightning or hanged the next day.

The Buffalo Courier calmly asks us to believe a story it tells about a young woman in that city who has lain unconscious without food for over a year. Certainly, good Courier, there's nothing incredible about that. There is a man in Burlington who has lain unconscious and without food for nearly twelve years. And there isn't a better kept grave nor a quieter corpse in the cemetery.

The Japanese Government has ordered a series of experiments with the telephone and phonograph. Now, if these things can be taught to speak Japanese, we will believe anything of them. And official dispatches from Yokohama to Honolulu declare the experiments have been entirely successful. What a wonderful assistance they were taken on the mission. But we never would have believed the phonograph could be taught to "chalk" a line.

The following anecdote of Mr. Moody comes from New Haven:

Moody was preaching at the New Haven tabernacle upon "Salvation" and its perfect freedom, and replying to certain proposed objections, when he made the following illustration: "You have only got to take it, that's all. Here, Mr. Moody, (turning to the pastor of the Davenport Congregational Church, who sat close by, "I'll tell you not my Bible, but you would accept it, would you not?" "Certainly," said Mr. Moody. "Then take it," said Moody, "it's yours," thrusting the Bible he had been using into Messrs. hands. It is a free gift; keep it." The illustration brought down the house as Mr. Moody put the book—a copy which Mr. Moody has since refused $100 for it, as it is deemed a very valuable keepsake from Moody's notes and marks thereon. Now I want to know that the whole transaction was utterly unprepared to on Mr. Moody's part, and that he greatly valued the book, yet the illustration was so effective that nothing could induce him to take it. Hence Mr. Moody is having a duplicate interlined Bible bound up for him. Such touches as these that Edward Everett was wont to work up with great care seem to come out of Mr. Moody's hands as he conquers in New Haven, as he has everywhere, by his simple, earnest manliness.

"POLITENESS costs nothing," but it is not expected that you will wake a man at midnight to ask permission to go through his hen-house. It is more courteous to let him enjoy his needed repose.

The capital invested in daily newspapers in Paris is estimated at fourteen million dollars.
